Turning Insight into Action

Gilon provides integrated enterprise information management consulting services & solutions, serving a wide variety of top-tier enterprises with a full spectrum of vertical-specific BI offering.

Through its extensive and rich experience in executing DWH projects in a wide variety of environments and organizations, Gilon has developed proven methodologies for building and managing data warehouses. We are experienced in working with the most popular data integration tools and database platforms in the market. Through these implementations, Gilon has developed its own methodology and devised readymade components for ETL development, technical metadata management, system performance management, data quality monitoring and data enrichment services.

Gilon is also active in supporting organizations in merger processes, organizational infrastructure integration including networks, servers and execution tools.

Gilon implements projects on an end-to end turnkey basis. We accompany projects from concept formulation through successful fruition. As integrators who build projects based on a variety of solutions, we work with the most advanced, innovative and trusted tools and technologies, striving to achieve the most optimal synergy between the stated objectives of the project and the means used in achieving them.
